

Bachelors Repay Social Debts at 'Dark Horse' Dance

Turf and Field Club Scene of Enjoyable Party for 350 Guests.

Bachelors who are welcome additions at gatherings of society during the summer, and especially at country house parties, in order to repay social obligations, not only for the summer but at the winter as well, gave a dance last night at the Turf and Field Club, formerly the Manie estate, at Belmont Park. It was styled a Dark Horse Dance, and was a duplicate of one given in October last year. It was an informal entertainment following various dinners, and the guests were principally those having country places in that neighborhood and their guests.

The hosts of the evening were Messrs. Frederic Stevens Allen, John B. Clark, Harry Cushing 3d, Worthington Davis, Alfred O. Hoyt, Murray Hoffman, Albert Gould Jennings, Jr., Jerome Preston, George H. Pendleton and Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr.

Mrs. Sewall, Who Got Paris Divorce, to Wed To-morrow

Mrs. Lydig's Sister to Be Bride of Capt. Shaw, British Army.

Friends of Mrs. Angela de Acosta Sewall of New York, whose divorce from Mr. William Gilman Sewall in France was announced recently, learned yesterday that she will be married to-morrow in Paris to Capt. Frederic Charles Shaw, British army, son of Col. Sir Frederic and Lady Shaw of Busby Park, Dublin, Ireland. Their engagement became known to the families soon after Mrs. Sewall obtained her decree.

Mrs. Sewall is the youngest of the daughters of the late Ricardo and Micaela Hernandez de Alba de Acosta. Her sisters are Mrs. Rita de Acosta Lydig, Mrs. Oron Root, Jr., Mrs. Andrew Robeson Sargent and Mrs. Abram Poole. She was married to Mr. Sewall November 15, 1919. For some time her home has been at 25 Avenue Marceau, Paris.

Col. Shaw was born in 1896. He is the second of six children of Sir Frederic and Lady Shaw. His mother, whom Sir Frederic married in 1885, was Eleanor Hester de Vere, daughter of Major P. H. de Vere of the British army. The baronetcy, of which Sir Frederic is the fifth holder, was created in 1821, although his family is one of the oldest in England and Ireland.

MRS. LIVINGSTON IS BRIDE SECOND TIME

Married to Winthrop Dahlgren, Broker.

Mrs. Frances Livingston, daughter of Mrs. H. Mason Robing by her first husband, was married yesterday to Mr. Winthrop Dahlgren of 57 West Fifty-seventh street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Giles at his parsonage, 32 Carlton street, East Orange.

The bride was formerly married to Mr. Winthrop Percy Smith. They were divorced several years ago, when she resumed her maiden name and rejoined her mother, Mrs. Robing.

Among those at the ceremony yesterday were the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Livingston, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Wigham. The former Mrs. Eastman Johnson is a great aunt of the bride.

Mr. Dahlgren, who is a grandson of Admiral Dahlgren, is a broker associated with Orvis Brothers & Co.

News of the wedding will come as a surprise to many friends, who did not know of the engagement.

MRS. E. K. HADDEN TO WED. Her Engagement to Mr. H. N. French Announced.

MISS G. EMILY GORMAN AND MR. CHARLES WEBB MARRIED

Mrs. Charles Webb.

Daughter of Mr. S. Jennings Gorman Has House Wedding.

Miss Gertie Emily Gorman, daughter of Mr. S. Jennings Gorman and the late Mrs. Gorman, was married to Mr. Charles Webb yesterday at her home, 236 Madison avenue, in the presence of relatives and close friends. The ceremony was performed by a cousin of the bride, the Rev. Dr. E. A. S. Middleton, before a temporary altar draped in white and lilies or the valley. Her only ornament was a brooch of diamonds a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. Gladstone McIlhenny, Mrs. Irving E. Bardick and a page, Edward Livingston Johnston. Mr. William S. K. Wetmore, son of the late Senator George Peabody Wetmore was best man for Mr. Webb. The ushers were Col. Howard Thayer Kingsbury, cousin of the bride, Mr. Edmund W. Hunter, cousin of the bride; Mr. A. Rene Moon and Mr. George A. Taylor. A reception and buffet luncheon for two art collections at Anderson Galleries. Old Masters and Feffercorn Antiques Shown.

The new daylight rooms of the Anderson Galleries are now filled with a collection of paintings made up of contributions from Francis Adam of Alberta, Canada, and from the Ehrlich Galleries of this city. The pictures will be sold at auction November 8 and 9.

Many great names figure among the list of artists represented, such as Van Dyke, Gainsborough, Jordans, Canaletto, Diaz, Longhi, Sir Joshua Reynolds and Mignard. There are other canvases to which the great names have been qualified with such terms as "in the school of" and "attributed to," so that amateurs know at once that the collection is one that invites collectors to do their own expertizing—always an exhilarating experience.

Among the attractive works by painters not widely known may be cited the "Portrait of Two Sisters" by D. Martin, which is very decorative and quaint with a far-away suggestion of the charm of Hogarth. The "Portrait of a Gentleman" by Arthur Devis could also be described in the same terms. The portrait group by Thomas Phillips is a resplendent affair, with a lady and her two daughters much befuddled. There are portraits by Francis Cotton's Sir Peter Lely, Van der Velde, a decorative study of fowls by Verelst and a group of pictures by these contemporary Belgian painter, Armand Jamar.

With these pictures also is being shown the collection of antiques formed by Emily Schuyler, E. Schuyler, which includes charming and rare objects now used by persons of taste in furnishing their dwellings, with old benches and cabinets from churches that are now used as bookshelves, embroidery, pottery, clocks, prints, mirrors and garden ornaments.

Among the notable specimens are a Venetian lacquer screen, a late Renaissance "bambocce" with stand, a pair of Chippendale mirror console and a lovely Adam commode.

ARTISTS' OPENING SHOW WILL AID CHILDREN. Share of Admission Fees and Sales for Welfare.

The Artists' Cooperative Galleries, which accepted the invitation of Mr. M. Gidding to locate in the Gidding Building, at Fifty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, will open about November 15, under a new plan. An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged for the first three days. These admission fees, together with 20 per cent. of the total sales for that period, will be turned over to the Heckerling Foundation for Children, and thereafter each Wednesday will be known as "Children's Day," when an admission of 50 cents will be charged and 20 per cent. of the sales of that day will be turned over to the foundation. All other days admission will be free to the public.

MRS. D. D. McBEAN'S WILL MAKES $66,000 GIFTS

Bequests Contingent on Sub-ways Contractor's Suits.

The will of Mrs. Anna C. McBean, widow of Duncan D. McBean, subway tunnel contractor, was filed for probate here yesterday. She died in Italy July 6. Mr. McBean was one of the builders of the Lenox avenue-Bronx tunnel under the Harlem, the Riverside Drive viaduct, the 15th street viaduct, the 16th street bridge over the Harlem and many other engineering works.

Mrs. McBean's will makes specific legacies amounting to $66,000. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Lois Dedrick, of Washington, D. C., and her son, C. C. McBean, of New York, are named as legatees. Winthrop Dedrick of Saginaw, Mich., a grandson, and Charles G. Crain of Port Huron, Mich., a nephew, get $10,000 each. Mrs. Ida Wignall of Chicago, $15,000, and the Rev. Herbert Roche of Rutherfordton, N. C., $1,000.

Mrs. McBean's will recalls Mr. McBean's suits in 1913 against the city of New York for $1,000,000 and contractors for $2,000,000 in connection with alleged misuse of his methods in the Lexington avenue tunnel under the Harlem. A codicil says that if the estate wins any judgments from Mr. McBean's suits, Anna McBean, widow of Duncan
